Nothing compares to the loss of a child or loved one. We understand your pain because we experienced it ourselves. It was our struggle to deal with the loss of our son, Bobby, which inspired us to reach out and help others by establishing The Bobby Resciniti Healing Hearts Foundation. From our pain arose a place of healing, where families can go for support, compassion and the help they need to begin the healing process. We named this haven "Bobby's Place" as a tribute to our son taken too soon, as well as to serve as "the place" where help, healing and hope can be found by families seeking some semblance of peace.

Bobby's Place doors are open to all type of loss – no cost – no charge – no fees....just hugs!
